Don't hurt anymore, now you're here
Don't hurt anymore, now you're here
All the wounds you healed are open now
And all tears I cried are lost, some how
Cold rain, is falling through your heart
Cold rain, is falling through your heart
Can't sleep at night, now you're here
Can't sleep at night, now you're here
All the words you said are quiet now
And all the drugs we took seem pointless now
Cold rain, is falling through your heart
Cold rain, is falling through your heart
Cold rain is going to wash me clean
The water is rising around me
We built a boat out of sand
So open the door and let me in
All the words you said are quiet now
And all the drugs we took seem pointless now
Cold rain, is falling through your heart
Cold rain, is falling through your heart
