[Woman #1:]

I was free as can be white-black, I was free to be equal to anyone.
Listening to you, you are so precious I just can't believe it! I am shocked! Your scaring me!

[Woman #2:]

What is he saying that you have a problem with?
What is he saying that you have a problem with?

[Woman #3:]

What scares us is I think we hear violence.

[Woman #4:]

Think you don't know what the fuck it is you talkin' about.

[Woman #3:]

I'm so scared to go around the world next year, because I was never afraid to dismeget on listening to you, it's really scary hearing what your saying, I'm very scared!

[Woman #2:]

What is he saying that you have a problem with?
What is he saying that you have a problem with?

[Woman #3:]

What scares us is I think we hear violence.

[Woman #4:]

Think you don't know what the fuck it is you talkin' about.

[Woman #3:]

They're saying questions about us fearing, wepsal fearing, you know, what will the black folks do and stuff, we should be running down the street, screaming and ranting and raving cause when you look at the sartistics, Who is the one guy? From the policemen? From the KKK? From the skinheads?

[Woman #3:]

What scares us is I think we hear violence.

[Woman #2:]

What is he saying that you have a problem with?

And why is it when a black man stands up to speak for his people, and all the people stand up to speak for their people, there's no problem with it?

What you saying?

He said black, he said juke.

And people talk... they talk like that.

But why is it when a black man stands up to speak for his people, you feel so threatened? And everybody's paranoid? And you talk about shot sigar gaytion? We live in hall and we live in wats, we live in Befestifison that's a form of 7 gaytion. We through Beafenher we get killed. So what are you talking about?
